CU In School News

Welcome Back!

It's that time already! Marshall Community Credit Union and CU In School are looking forward to another successful year.

We will be offering Financial Classroom Presentations again this year. The following presentations topics are available: Savings 101, Loans, History of Money and Volunteerism. Each presentation is specifically geared toward your students grade level and includes some sort of group activity. Teachers can sign their classroom up for a presentation, simply by contacting MCCU.

Does your student have a financial goal? Are they saving for something special? If so, make sure to complete a Savings Goal Sheet (available at MCCU and at the Marshall Academy CU In School branch). Completed sheets will be collected and at the end of the year, if your student has reached their savings goal, we'll give them a certificate and put their picture in the Marshall AdVisor and Battle Creek Shopper. Savings Goal Sheets can be turned in at anytime during the school year.

MCCU is dedicated to making saving money fun, while demonstrating the power of savings to help your children reach their goals. For more information about the CU In School program contact me at 269.781.9885, or by email at tuckera@marcomcu.org.

Sincerely,

Andrea Tucker, MCCU Youth Marketing Representative

Would you like to be a student volunteer?

We are looking for students to fill the following positions: Branch Manager, Assistant Manager, Bookkeeper(s), and Teller(s).

If you are interested in any of these positions, grab an application from the CU In School bulletin board (located outside the library), or MCCU. After you have completed the application turn it into your teacher.

Not a Member Yet? You Could Be.

The first step to teaching kids about lifetime money management is opening a credit union savings account through CU In School. MCCU's youth savings programs help children become self-assured savers and responsible borrowers.

Don't wait! Help your child open a savings account with CU In School and encourage them to add to it each week or month.

It's easy! If your child would like to become a member, we simply need a photocopy of a joint owners Photo ID, a copy of the students social security card (or official tax document), and $5.00. This is all it takes to start your child on the road to confident money management.
