Your Credit Union Cares

Here's what we do to protect your accounts and vital financial information:

Capital City Press Federal Credit Union maintains an extensive Disaster Recovery Plan, to be implemented by our Disaster Recovery Team in the event of an emergency. All financial records are kept safe and secure in remote locations, with extensive off-site backups which are routinely updated for your protection. In the event of a disaster which prevents the credit union office from opening for business, the Disaster Recovery Team will activate the Plan, to ensure the quickest possible resumption of business. In the interim, the Team will notify members of service alternatives by placing messages on the Credit Union's main phone line, (227) 761-5111 or toll-free (877) 961-5111, and on the web site, www.ccpfcu.com.
