FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CDC Federal Credit Union Celebrates 60 Years in Financial Industry

ATLANTA, GA, March 12, 2009---CDC Federal Credit Union (CDC FCU) is pleased to announce 60 years of financial service to its members. Credit unions are built on the philosophy of “People Helping People,” and CDC FCU strives to uphold this message by giving back to members.

Each Friday during the month of March, CDC FCU will host a small breakfast and lunch in the branches for members and potential members of the community. Furthermore, members can take advantage of special promotions such as winning $250 when making a $60 transaction into a money market account, and $250 for filling out a 60th Anniversary celebration survey.

“As a way of saying ‘thank you’ to our members who have supported us throughout the years, we are pleased to offer special promotions in such difficult economic times,” said Betsy Mercier, president and CEO. “We are especially proud that we remain financially safe and secure for our members futures, and that we can continue to offer basic products and services to improve their lifestyles.”

Other continuing promotions throughout the year include low-rate mortgages for those looking to purchase or refinance, auto loan rates as low as 3.9% APR with additional discounts through the Invest in America program, and free online banking services to promote a healthier planet.

Today, anyone who lives, works, worships, attends school, or volunteers in portions of DeKalb, Fulton, or Gwinnett Counties is eligible for membership with CDC FCU.

The credit union is a member-owned, not-for-profit financial cooperative serving over 16,000 members in the Greater Atlanta Community, and is federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration. For further information about CDC FCU, visit our Web site at www.cdcfcu.com.
