FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CDC Federal Credit Union Camp's Out for Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

ATLANTA, GA, December 18, 2008---CDC Federal Credit Union (CDC FCU) launched the start of a new community service program called, "Because We Care" in early 2007. To continue its message of strengthening the community, CDC FCU volunteers "camped-out" for Children's Healthcare of Atlanta (CHOA) on Monday, December 8.

Camp Children's brings a camp experience to hospital bound children and their families, and serves as one of CHOA's main corporate volunteer activities. CDC FCU provided arts and crafts for the holiday season, as well as participating in the various activities with the patients and families.

"To be apart of something as special as Camp Children's is truly an honor for the credit union," said Andy Anderson, Marketing Services Manager. "The event shows that the main focus remains around the children and their families during a time of need in their life. We look forward to maintaining an ongoing relationship with Children's in the coming years."

CHOA, a not-for-profit organization, is committed to enhancing the lives of children through excellence in patient care, research and education. Managing more than half a million patient visits annually at three hospitals and 16 neighborhood locations, Children's is one of the largest clinical care providers for children in the country.

*The credit union is a member-owned, not-for-profit financial cooperative serving over 16,000 members in the Greater Atlanta Community, and is federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration.
