

Our Credit Cards Made the Dean's List

We're happy to announce that our credit cards have made the Dean's List on Ondine Irving's website, www.creditcardconnection.org. Irving launched the site at the beginning of December 2009 to connect consumers directly to the most fair and ethical credit card programs in the country. With no annual fees, low fixed rates and other great benefits, our credit cards earned the five stars required to make the Dean's List. Take a look for yourself.

Suze Orman, a personal finance expert and host of a CNBC program, appeared on Larry King Live recently and mentioned the benefits credit unions offer with their credit card programs as well as promoted the Credit Card Connection site. Orman is quoted saying, "I have come to believe...that many Credit Unions are more ethical and fair to their customers than banks with credit cards."

Applying is easy and the savings are enjoyable. Learn more about our credit cards at www.InvesTexCU.org, by calling 281.449.0109, or stopping by any one of our branches.
