

Wings Financial Partners With Colgan Air

Agreement brings together two great customer service traditions

APPLE VALLEY, Minn.-- Minnesota-based Wings Financial Federal Credit Union today announced it has reached an agreement with Colgan Air to offer a full range of financial products and services to the more than 1,100 employees of the Virginia-based carrier.

“Colgan’ is a name that’s synonymous with innovation and service in the regional airline industry,” said Paul Parish, Wings Financial president and chief executive officer. “The employees of Colgan Air deliver great service throughout their network – from Del Rio, Texas to Presque Isle, Maine; we’re committed to serving them wherever their travels take them.”

“Wings Financial understands the airline industry and the kind of financial services and products our team needs,” said Mary Colgan Finnigan, Colgan Air vice president of administration. “We’re very excited to partner with them on behalf of our employees on the ground and in the air.”

As part of the agreement, Wings Financial will begin promoting its products and services to Colgan Air employees immediately. Wings Financial will also offer Colgan Air employees a customized line of checks featuring Colgan Air aircraft images.

Today’s announcement marks Wings Financial’s third airline partnership in recent months; in June, the credit union announced an agreement with JetBlue Airways and, in July, unveiled a similar partnership with Minnesota-based Sun Country Airlines.
